NEWPORT EXOTIC GARDEN.
WHERE can I find it? is sometimes asked by strangers, but never by old visitors.
Now is the time to secure your bedding plants. We never before had such a quantity and never such fine plants as this season, consisting of all the new and rare plants. All we desire, is to come and look and see for yourselves. Roses, Dracenias, Centaurias, Geraniums of all sorts, Carnations, Coleons, &c., all of these by the hundred or thousand. Hundreds of other varieties of bedding and foliage plants, all at low rates. Baskets, Stands, Vases, Jardinieres. A fine lot of Ferns, Begonias, Caladiums, Palms, Euphorbias, Camelias and Azalias, Rose Buds by the hundred, and everything pertaining to a first-class Horticultural Establishment. ☞All orders received this season for Bouquets, Baskets, Cut Flowers, and decorations for parties and weddings, received at the garden, as we have vacated our store on Bellevue av., to avoid extortionate rent, which we save by doing all our business at the greenhouses and which our patrons will have the benefit of. Trees of various sorts to be found in addition to the above. Galvin & Geraghty, Dearborn and Spring streets, Newport, R. I. my5

OLD LETTERS.

"Burn them wholesale! Ancient scars
Will bleed and throb if you delay.
Thrust them in between the bars,
Tied up in their packets,"——"Stay!
I see my mother's writing, and
My father's, 'tis theirs indeed,
Though tattered in a large round hand,
That their little son might read.
How I prized them! New to school,
How my very soul did ache!
Grief had killed a little fool,
If the heart could really break."

"Chisedl's writing! 'Dear old boy,
Whatever happens, I'm your friend.'
He meant it, too, without alloy
Our friendship was, and feared no end.
How oft, while dropping down the stream,
Or idly stretched among the heather,
We shared in Youth's presumptuous dream,
And vowed to storm the world together.
O fool! to trust a boyish word;
O fool! to feel a boyish sorrow;
That Chisedl, walking with a lord,
Would cut me, if we met, tomorrow."

"Burn the letters! Ancient scars
Will bleed and throb if you delay.
Thrust them in between the bars,
Tied up in their packet"——"Stay!
That hand so delicate and small,
Traced upon paper pinky white,
Does like a happy dream recall
A time of heavenly delight.
'My-life! my love! O tender girl!'
'I will kill me if you are not true'"
And here's a brown and silky curl,
Tied with the faithful color, blue.
The honest silk has faded quite,
For would this only love of mine
Shed, if she saw me dead tonight,
A single tear for auld lang syne!"

"Burn them wholesale! Ancient scars
Will bleed and throb with this delay;
Thrust the letters through the bars,
Open not another"——"Stay!
That foreign sheet I cannot burn;
'T is Tom's last letter; give it me!
He writes in it of his return
To those—he ne'er again should see.
Burn it; burn it all. For they who traced
The lines with such keen pleasure read,
Whose lore can never be replaced,
Are false, are fickle, or are dead.
Burn them wholesale! Ancient scars
Will bleed afresh at each delay.
Thrust them in between the bars;
They belong to yesterday."
—Chambers' Journal.

NOT UNDERSTOOD.

WHAT A VERY COMMON COMPLAINT AMOUNTS TO.—TO WHAT EXTENT PEOPLE DO OR DO NOT UNDERSTAND EACH OTHER.

The favorite complaint of ninety nine men and women out of a hundred is that they are not understood.

Every married woman with a fondness for weak sentimentality confides to her intimate friend that her husband, kind and well-meaning as he is, does not understand her.

Every married man who is in the slightest degree addicted to the morbid habit of dissecting his own emotions firmly believes that his wife totally fails to understand him.

As for the unmarried of either sex, they accept as a matter of course the conscious isolation that springs from being misunderstood by all their kind.

At the same time that we are all complaining because we are misunderstood we are making it the aim of our lives to conceal our true selves from any one else.

It is like the full-dress paradox. The less a lady clothes her shoulders and arms the nearer she approaches to the state of "full-dress." The more we wish to be understood the more we pose ourselves in assumed characters.

You, my dear sir, who sadly say to yourself over your solitary evening cigar, "No one understands me," really mean that no one accepts you as the person of unique merit which you wish to convince the world that you are.

You, my dear madame, who say to your intimate lady friend, or the sympathetic young man with whom you are carrying on a perfectly unexceptionable flirtation, "Nobody understands me," simply mean that no one concedes that you have succeeded in perfectly disguising yourself as a woman of exceptional strength of mind, delicacy of feeling, and capacity of everything that is noble and excellent in your sex.

Now, the truth is that we are all of us understood by our friends quite as thoroughly as we desire to be.

A man is nearly always accurately gauged by the world, so far as his merits are concerned. A woman is nearly always understood by her feminine friends as thoroughly as she wishes them to understand her.

Which of us would be willing that the secret thoughts and emotions that we keep carefully hidden should be surprised even by our truest and best friend? Yet that is what must precede the process of being thoroughly understood.

Still there is a degree of knowledge of a man or woman which is something less than this intolerable exposure and something more than the knowledge which the world attains. And it is a curious fact that the person admitted to this knowledge is always of the opposite sex to the one making the revelation.

No woman ever thoroughly understands another woman: and no man perfectly comprehends another man.

A woman has an instinctive fear of being thought unwomanly by every other woman. A man is never free from the dread of doing something that his best friend, even if he loves him as a brother, may think unmanly. And so, whether we are men or women, we always keep up a barrier of conventionality between ourselves and those of our own sex.

It is only to a man that a woman reveals herself. It is only in the presence of a woman that a man lays aside the reserve that he maintains among his fellows. No woman knows her own sister as well as does the young man with whom she has had a six-months' friendship. No man understands the friend of twenty years of masculine intimacy half so well as the woman whom the latter has courted for six weeks understands him.

Does it follow, then, that married people know each perfectly? By no means.

The doors of intimacy that were open during the days of courtship grow rusty on their hinges after marriage.

By and by, in the confidence of mutual affection, a free criticism of one another's faults becomes frequent, the atmosphere grows a little chilly, and the doors are shut forever.

A woman does not like to whisper "You may look into my inmost heart" to the man who feels so much at home with her that he is quite capable of saying, "Thanks; but just wait till I find my pipe. I can't see why it is that you women always will put things where a man can't find them."

There is precisely one relation in which men and women are known perfectly, through and through, in their inmost grain and fibre, by one another. It is that of unlawful love.

It is partly the recklessness that follows a step once taken that can never be retraced, and partly the isolation that a shameful secret carries with it, that lead to this absolute unveiling of good and bad alike which marks the relation of the faithless wife with her passionate lover.

And this unveiling is perhaps the reason why it is that this man and his mistress most ultimately quarrel, and bitterly despise one another.

It was never meant that we should stand mentally and morally naked before our fellows. If we really long to do so, it is a morbid longing that ought be promptly suppressed. And so let me say to the wife who wails that she is not understood, and the husband who would make a similiar plaint if he did not fear ridicule, you are longing for that which can never be reached by open and peaceful paths.

Individualism was not made the condition of humanity without a purpose. The separate soul is not segregated in its separate body by an expensive error. It is worse than folly for us to long for a "Pan-Humanity," in which one vast and identical soul inform the myriad bodies of the race.

LIONS NOT MAJESTIC.—Livingstone had the greatest possible contempt for lions. "You talk about the majesty of the lion," he said, chatting to Sir Edwin Landseer at a party in London; "but you do not know the beast. There is no more majesty about him in the forest than there is about that poodle. It is all poetry. Lions are arrant cowards—cowardly sneaking beasts. You can hardly tell a lion from a donkey when you come upon him in the forest, and if you come upon a lion suddenly his first impulse is to tuck his tail between his legs and bolt. He will spring upon you if he comes upon you unawares, and can have time to crouch; but if a man has the courage to look a lion in the face you need not even cock your rifle.

KINGSLEY'S IRON TONIC.
CURES
General Debility, Neuralgia, Nervous Affections, Dyspepsia, Female Complaints, Weakness, Poverty of Blood, Pale Lips and Faces, Depression of Spirits, Boils, &c.

Everyone with no energy or strength to do anything, with sleepless nights from over working the brain, should use this remedy. It is a blood maker, and will give you a rich flow of it through the system.

I have testimonials from the Superintendents of the best Hospitals in New England as to its value. They regard it as the FIRST TONIC in the market. Druggists say, "Our Doctors prescribe and speak highly of it. It is taking the lead of all preparations of that nature. We have had a great sale of it. It gives the best satisfaction to my customers. We take it ourselves and recommend it to everyone."

Remember that Druggists' testimony is that of a large class of customers. Now invalids take courage and try the best thing out.

This valuable medicine is for sale by Druggists. If they haven't it ask them to order it for you.

KINGSLEY'S IRON TONIC.

FOR SALE BY JAMES H. TAYLOR.

DR. SCHENCK'S
Pulmonic Syrup, Sea Weed Tonic, and Mandrake Pills.

These medicines have undoubtedly performed more cures of Consumption than any other remedy known to the American public. They are compounded of vegetable ingredients, and contain nothing which can be injurious to the human constitution.

Other remedies advertised as cures for Consumption, probably contain opium, which is a somewhat danger. ous drug in all cases, and if taken freely by consumptive patients, it must do great injury; for its tendency is to confine the morbid matter in the system, which of course, must make a cure impossible.

Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup is warranted not to contain a particle of opium: It is composed of powerful but harmless herbs, which act on the lungs, liver, stomach and blood, and thus correct all morbid secretions, and expel all the diseased matter from the body. These are the only means by which Consumption can be cured, and as Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, Sea Weed Tonic, and Mandrake Pills are the only medicines which operate in this way, it is obvious they are the only genuine cure for Pulmonary Consumption. Each bottle of this invaluable medicine is accompanied by full directions.

Dr. Schenck is professionally at his principal office, corner Sixth and Arch Streets, Philadelphia, every Monday, and at the Quincy House, Boston, on the following Wednesdays, June 10th and 24th, July 8th and 22d, and August 5th and 19th. jo6-eod

Newport Daily News.

FRIDAY, JUNE 19, 1874.

The summer routes of the NEWS are now carried. The paper is delivered east as far as Gibbs avenue and south as far as Webster street. The publishers will be pleased to serve all within these limits.

THE DAY.

Prof. Goldwin Smith has relapsed from the true faith recording to the gospel of John Stuart Mill and in a magazine article solemnly expresses his penitence for having signed that philosopher's petition for woman suffrage.

The itinerant Senator, Gen. James Shields, having represented Minnesota and Illinois in the Senate now finds himself in the political conference of Missouri and is willing to serve that state in the same capacity. This is rotation in office after a new process.

The senate yesterday passed the constabulary bill by a vote of twenty to fourteen. The house did not take up the matter. The senate resolution to adjourn from today till January was laid on the table in the house. The house ordered paid the bill of the Newport Artillery Company, $200. The adjournment of the legislature at this time would be a violation of the eighth amendment to the constitution in that it would inflict a cruel and certainly an unusual punishment upon the Senatorial aspirants.

The Republicans of Maine have renominated Gov. Dingley. The Republicans of Vermont have nominated Judge Peck for governor. The Indiana Republicans have renominated the present state officers and the Illinois Republican convention was thrown into hot water by an attempt to make the platform declare for the retirement of greenbacks as national bank notes increase and this section was stricken out. Of course the fewer planks there are in a platform the less offence it will give and it is time that politicians learned the danger of making a platform declare for anything except virtue and liberty and the supreme power of "the people," or against anything except corruption, one of those sins in the abstract that, as Hosea Bigelow tells us, no one ever committed.

Rhode Island is not as large as Massachusetts but it is by no means certain that her legislature cannot vote as many times for Senator as the Solons at Boston did. The sixteenth vote was taken at Providence yesterday and gave no sign of what the fates have in store for Senator Sprague's position. Gen. Burnside had his faithful forty three and Mr. Dixon had twenty eight, one more than he had on any previous vote. It is probable that he never consulted the wishes of his constituents with more pleasure than in casting his vote in the Senatorial election. Mr. Barstow had seventeen, Mr. Sheffield and Mr. Browne had seven each, Mr. Jenckes had five, Mr. Bradley had two and Mr. Binney had one. This is the first vote in which the whole one hundred and nine members of the General Assembly have participated.

By a resolution adopted in the Senate, the committee on naval affairs is instructed to examine the navy yards on the Atlantic coast with a view to reporting to Congress at its next session, as to the expediency of reducing the number of them. A spiteful newspaper correspondent suggests that this will afford means for a delightful excursion from Florida to Maine on a government vessel during the heated term after Congress shall have adjourned. The committee on naval affairs will, however, be welcome to their cruise if they report in favor of reducing the number of yards. To maintain these establishments at Kittery, Charlestown, New London, Brooklyn, League Island, Washington, Gosport and several other places is a heavy and unnecessary expense. For our navy three or four yards on the Atlantic coast are sufficient.

The result of breach of promise suits has made flirtation risky and correspondence positively dangerous. But a cunning young Englishman of fourscore years has hit upon a method of writing letters that does not diminish their acceptableness to the recipient while it completely destroys their value as evidence. When he addressed the temporary object of his aged affections as "M. D.," told her she was his "L. P.," and closed with "M. G. B. U. and K." she of course, understood that he called her "my dear" and "little pet" and terminated his fond epistle with the prayer, "may God bless you and kisses," a prayer more affectionate than grammatical, but Cupid seeks little aid from Murray. But not even the jury that discovered a declaration of love in "chops and tomato sauce" could be expected to convict a man of breach of promise on the strength of those initials. And so his economy of ink saved him the pecuniary consolation that his broken hearted victim sought. If this capital method of correspondence were generally known to the unfair sex, school boys would find the table of abbreviations at the end of the spelling book the most attractive study within their reach.

While the lamp holds out to burn the vilest sinner may be hopeached and our tender hearted Congressmen seem disposed to allow the lamp to withdraw itself from jurisdiction or flicker out in old age or do anything else that will obviate the disagreeable necessity of impeachment. More than a year ago a resolution of impeachment was reported in Congress against Durell of Louisiana infamy, but in the hope that he would resign or die or be appointed by the President to represent the United States at some foreign court nothing was done about it. As Durell has declined to flee from the Congressional wrath which he had reason to believe would never come and has been transplanted from his present sphere of usefulness by neither Providence nor the President it has become the painful duty of the judiciary committee to report another resolution of impeachment, a duty which the committee performed by a vote of six to five. The end of the session is so near at hand that no impeachment is likely to occur. Congressmen are nothing if not considerate of their own comfort and many of them want to go a fishing in the hot weather. To ask gentlemen who are liberally paid by the nation for twelve months' service to stay in Washington during the Summer for the sake of ridding the people of Louisiana of this legal monstrosity, this modern Jeffries, this public functionary who would be more at home on a liquor cask than on the wool sack, is, of course, unreasonable and out of the question.

NEW YORK ITEMS.

Francis Butler, a New York dog fancier, died in Brooklyn, Tuesday night, of hydrophobia.

A verdict of $72,323 was today rendered against Walter Roche in favor of the receiver of the Bowling Green Savings Bank on account of moneys illegally loaned him by the officers of that bank.

United States District-Attorney Bliss says that if Judge Woodruff's decision is sustained, declaring illegal the tax heretofore collected from bankers and brokers on deposits made with them and liable to be withdrawn by checks and drafts, the effect will be that the government will have to refund $30,000,000.

President Dillon, of the Union Pacific Railroad, is reported to have stated that he has arranged to make the injunction between the Union and Central Pacific Railroads at Ogden, Utah, and that Brigham Young has donated 133 acres of land on which to erect the depots and other necessary buildings, turnouts, shops, etc., etc.

The Union Trust Company has filed a bill in the United States Circuit Court against the Rockford, Rock Island and St. Louis Railroad to foreclose two mortgages of $5,000,000, the interest on which has been defaulted. Considerable litigation will doubtless ensue, as several bondholders and mortgagees, including some German capitalists, are interested. A receiver will probably be appointed.

Many of the bricklayers who struck on Monday have returned to work at the old wages, and it is generally believed that the strike will be a failure. All the bricklayers on the new Tribune building struck yesterday, except one American who was getting five dollars a day for doing fine work on the front. As an instance of the tyranny of the order, this man, although receiving more wages than the strikers demanded, was notified that he must strike too or he would not be allowed to work on any job where Union men were employed hereafter. Thirty-three bosses today conceded $1 per day to the strikers, but six held out.

WASHINGTON ITEMS.

Gen. Bristow held quite a levee on the House floor Wednesday. It was his first appearance at the capitol since he was made Secretary of the Treasury. Senator Logan has been absent all this week. Notice has been given in the Senate that neither Conkling, Edmunds nor Cameron will be present during the rest of this session.

Gen. Butler is trying very hard to get leave from the judiciary committee to report for the action of the House the bill that passed the Senate on Monday, containing the section under which it is intended to muzzle the press. The committee is satisfied with the bill with the exception of that section, which, if the bill is reported at all, will be stricken out.

A most remarkable instance of family rotation in office exists in the selection of consul to Falmouth, England. President Washington appointed as our first consular representative at that place a Mr. Fox, who held the office many years. Upon retiring therefrom, he was succeeded by his son, who occupied the position until recently. The other day Howard Fox, a son of the last above mentioned, was nominated to succeed his father in that office.

A strong effort will be made this week to get up for passage, the Senate civil rights bill, but as that will require a two thirds vote the bill cannot be rushed through the House. Failing in this the House bill, which the judiciary committee has a right to call up at any time, and to pass which, under those circumstances, only a majority vote is necessary, will be put on its passage so as to get it over to the Senate in time for action by that body before this session expires. By these means and these only, there is a slight hope in the minds of the friends of the bill that a civil rights bill may yet be passed this session.

FOR THE SUMMER.

* * The Long Branch hotels are wooden: Saratoga houses brick and stone.

* * No Summer hotel has a more enviable location than the magnificent Fort William Henry, at the head of Lake George.

* * The Windermere House, Greenwood Lake, Orange county, N. Y., fifty miles from New York by the Erie Railway, is now open. The scenery is fine, and the fishing good.

* * Ingleside Hotel, at Holyoke, Mass., is a delightful resort, situated on the west side of the Connecticut river, six miles from Springfield, three from Chicopee, and two and a half miles from Holyoke, on high land, free from fogs and mosquitoes, two hundred and eighty feet above and twelve feet from the river.

* * Cooper House at Cooperstown is not large enough to hold all the people who have engaged rooms for the Summer. Coleman and Maxwell have hired a few cottages in the neighborhood of the hotel to supply the demand. They have just leased Sunnyside Cottage and grounds. Hotel Fenimore has no room for servants in the house. Proprietors been obliged to lease "Jos. King House" for domestics.

* * The Surf Hotel at Fire Island is already filling up with guests, the attractions of good boating, bathing, and fishing drawing large numbers. This hotel is on the Atlantic Ocean, thirty-six miles from New York and can be easily reached over the South Side Railroad from Hunter's Point.

* * Lenox, Mass., holds its reputation as a fashionable Summer resort. Mr. H. M. Braem, the Danish consul of New York, is building a thirty-five thousand dollar house on "Cook Hill," and near by John E. Parsons, of New York, and Dr. R. C. Greenleaf, of Boston, are preparing to build. Mr. Sergeant, of Boston, and Mr. R. C. Winthrop, Jr., will build on the old Sedgwick place. All of Colonel Auchmuty's just completed cottages have been rented. A new club house is being built, at a cost of seven thousand dollars.

LONGEVITY OF AN ONION. Some time ago a vase which had been buried in the time of St. Louis was unearthed at St. Astier, France. Among other things it contained an onion which, after having been exposed for a short time to the air, was set. In spite of its age (600 years) it has grown into a healthy plant.—[London Echo.

For New England, clearing weather, with prevail, with north or west winds, slight changes in temperature and rising barometer.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

—There was music on the harbor last evening.

—John H. Crosby will carry on the business at the beach this Summer.

—Mr. John Caswell, of the firm of Caswell, Hazard & Co., is in town.

—Frequent complaints are made of the defacing of fences and buildings in this city.

—The Florence will begin her trips to the Pier next Wednesday.

—Green peas are retailing for sixty two cents a peck and the best of strawberries at twenty five cents a box.

—The New York and Boston Dispatch Company have a branch office at the Franklin telegraph office.

—Mrs. J. B. Post, Mrs. James Otis and Miss Heywood have engaged rooms for the season at Fadden's.

—The train to Boston this morning left this city with eight cars filled with people who had attended yearly meeting.

—Assistant Surgeon J. V. Lauderdale, U. S. A., has arrived at Fort Adams for temporary duty during the absent of Surgeon Campbell.

—The Old Colony Railroad Company put on a special train this morning for the Friends who were unable to take the 7:20 train.

—The social last evening at the chapel of the Thames Street Methodist Episcopal church was a very pleasant affair and a large number were present.

—The Old Colony Steamboat Company have advanced their employes the 10 per cent. that the Narragansett Steamship Company cut them down last Fall.

—Dr. W. Argyle Watson, Mr. M. Lazarus, Mr. John J. Hecksher, Mr. Edward Cushman, Mr. Robert Ray, and Mr. Alexander Van Rensselaer have arrived at their villas.

—Yachts Idler and Foam were in the harbor last evening. The former is owned by Mr. Thomas C. Durant and the latter by J. S. Homans, who owns and spends his Summers on Gould Island.

—Three or four sharks, averaging from ten to twelve feet in length, have been seen in the cove near the stables at the Fort. This will no doubt be a warning to persons from the city of bathing in that locality.

—A case has come to our notice where a gentleman set a wire trap to catch mice and which caught a pet canary bird instead. The bird had been flying about in the room, and entered the trap when the lid closing made him a prisoner. The bird was dead when found six hours afterward.

—A boat race is announced to take place in those waters about the first of July which is creating some interest among the boatmen of the place. The boat Annie R. Case, Shay, master, will sail ten miles to windward with the new boat Dolly, Briggs, master, for a purse of $100. Money will probably change hands among the friends of parties immediately interested.

ST. JOHN'S DAY.—The Grand Lodge and St. John's and Calvary Commanderies of Providence will arrive here next Wednesday by the Day Star at eleven o'clock. They will be met at the wharf by St. John's Commandery of this city who will escort the visitors to the Mason's hall and then to the Opera House where the oration will be pronounced by R. W. L. G. Tracy of Chelsea. After the oration there will be a parade through the streets and the Grand Lodge and the commanderies will dine at the Aquidneck House.

BASE BALL.

The game of base ball played at the Fort on Wednesday last between the "Phil Sheridan's" of the Fort and the "Monitors" of Providence resulted in favor of the latter. Owing to the inclemency of the weather in the morning the fielding was difficult on both sides. As it will be seen the Phils were beaten only by one run, which could easily have been made. Had they paid the same attention to their play during the seventh and eighth innings as they did in the last one they would easily have beaten their opponents. Although the game was somewhat interesting to officers and men we hope the Phils will learn to maintain that attention to their play which is requested on all such occasions and come out "A 1 the next time."

TIVERTON.—As usual at this time of year, Stone Bridge presents a busy appearance. Frequently as many as fifty persons may be be seen ranged on either side, busily engaged with hook and line, and the afternoon train to Boston takes home many a contented hook and liner, and many a well-filled basket of fine fish.

Mr. Edward Gray has bought a valuable farm in Dartmouth, about three miles south of New Bedford. If this means that at some future time he will take up his residence there, the citizens of Tiverton will greatly regret the purchase. Mr. Gray has striven to promote the cause of education in his native town, and is in every way a most valuable citizen.

LITTLE COMPTON.—At the regular meeting of the Town Council and Court of Probate held June 8th the will of Thankful Bailey was read and admitted to probate. Also the final account of Sylvester Burgess as guardian, was presented and allowed.

Farmers are greatly embarrassed in their planting operations by the excessive wet weather. The corn planting is yet far from being finished. Also those who planted early find their fields in bad condition. The prospects for fruit are affected disastrously by so much rain, though the orchards never bloomed more profusely, and never presented a more beautiful appearance.

At a meeting of the Congregational Church and Society, it was voted to secure the services of the Rev. Mr. Rice for the next three months.

SEVENTH REGIMENT.

Mayor Slocum has received the following letter from Col. Clarke:

Hon. Stephen P. Slocum, Mayor &c., Newport, R. I.

Sir:—After due consideration of the subject and in consequence of an unusual pressure of other military duties, this regiment has decided not to encamp this Summer and is therefore reluctantly obliged to relinquished the intended pleasure of visiting Newport during the present season.

Please convey to the Honorable, the Common Council of your city the thanks of this regiment for the polite and hospitable invitation received from that body. The Board of officers also desire me to express to you as chief magistrate of Newport, their high appreciation of your courtesy and of the honor conferred upon this regiment by your official action in respect to the proposed visit to your city.

With great respect,
I have the honor to be
Yours truly,
EMMONS CLARKE,
Col. Com., 7th. Regt., N. G. S. N. Y.

THE FRIENDS.

THE LAST SITTING OF THE YEARLY MEETING, —PEACE, EDUCATION, CORRESPONDENCE AND OTHER MATTERS.

Fifthday.

AFTERNOON.

The Friends met at three o'clock and the report of George Howland, treasurer, was received.

The peace committee reported having made some efforts for the dissemination of tracts, etc, but not much has been accomplished. The balance in the treasury is the same that it was last year, $225.36. Last year's committee was reappointed.

The committee on the general subject of education recommended that the matter be divided into Bible and secular schools and each be in the charge of three men and three women Friends and that they obtain full statistics and that the committee on Bible schools secure a visitor: also appropriating money not exceeding $200 for the expenses of the committee. The meeting reelected the old committee.

Daniel Fry hoped the Firstday school work would be pressed forward with energy and judgment. This work can not be successful when it is not done systematically and thoroughly. The superintendent must be earnest and prayerful and the teacher must be a live worker. In all these concerns charity, patience and love must be exercised. The committee appointed to nominate a committee to have charge of the general meetings reported a list of names which was accepted.

The clerk read the London general epistle for 1871. William C. Tabor and George Howland Jr., were appointed a committee and directed to have 5000 copies printed and distributed. This is the first time that the London epistle has arrived in time to be printed the same year it was dispatched.

The clerk was authorized to make a minute expressing the approval of this meeting of the attendance of Friends from other yearly meetings.

The clerk read the letter in response to the London epistle which had been prepared by the committee on correspondence, and also letters to Friends in Ireland, a general epistle to the Friends on this continent, and a letter to Friends in Norway.

The question of disposing of some 560 copies of the history of the Boston meeting houses was taken up and it was agreed that they be distributed among the quarterly meetings.

The committee on temperance requested that an appropriation be placed at their disposal and $300 was allotted them.

The matter of printing the minutes of this meeting came up and Owen Dame called attention to the fact that in printing the minutes of both men's and women's meetings there is much useless and expensive repetition and it was advised that the reports of the women's meetings be edited so that only new matters be added. Joseph Cartland and Edward Earl were appointed to lay this matter before the women's meeting, but considerable difference of opinion being manifested the matter was dropped. It was directed that 2000 copies of the minutes be printed and distributed and that William C. Tabor assist the clerk in this business.

Dr. Thomas spoke of the need of education in North Carolina. The Friends there were very much impoverished during the war and Northern and European Friends rendered them material assistance. This work soon turned into an educational work. Forty two schools were then established. The membership of the yearly meeting has increased from 2100 to more than 4000. Among these additions are many of the best and most influential citizens. The Friends of North Carolina want a high school. Already $18,000 and forty two acres of land have been secured and $22,000 more are needed.

Allan Jay spoke of the immense importance of this high school enterprise. Friends in Baltimore have been promised an endowment of about $35,000 if a good building can be erected. Friends have the reputation of having the best schools in North Carolina and the high school will greatly promote the interests of the society. Edward Howland arose and offered $500 for the school.

Charles Hubbard spoke of the work among the freedmen. In Arkansas schools have been established and a monthly meeting of sixty or seventy members has been organized. They are thoroughly Friends and are free from that demonstrative conduct that has generally attached to colored peoples' meetings. He urged active effort in behalf of the freedmen. He spoke of a normal school in Tennessee which Yardley Warner and others had started and which is now in a flourishing condition with 178 pupils.

Yardley Warner said that the American Missionary Association, the Philadelphia board and the yearly meetings have hitherto carried out the work of education and religion together. The Presbyterians have been obliged by the falling off of funds to withdraw aid from all but denominational schools. This shows the necessities of the case. States do not do their duty and of the 1,500,000 freedmen only one sixth have school privileges. He exhibited a map to show the localities of Friends' schools. He asked that freedmen be remembered in the prayers of Friends.

Some little time was occupied by visiting Friends who desired to express their appreciation of the kindness they had here received and their hopes for the welfare of this yearly meeting. Thomas Lang spoke for some minutes very appreciatively of the late David Buffum of this city.

At seven o'clock the clerk read the minute of adjournment to Portland at this time next year and after a few minutes of silent prayer the meeting broke up.

MARY'S LOVE LETTER.

The following is a true copy of a letter which lately came into the possession of a Philadelphia gentleman. It was written by a young girl to her lover "O'er the hills and far away," and is given exactly as written, with the exception of the names which are fictitious:

MY DEAR SAMUEL: I have just laid aside my work and have taken my pen to show you that I do think about you when you are not here; in fact, the trouble is to keep from thinking of you all the time. This afternoon, just before commencing dinner, I felt so lonely that I did not know what to do. Now, as I never had such feelings before I saw you, I cannot help but think I must be in love. Well, if I am in love with you, I am sure I have no need to be ashamed of it.

You see, when I got the potatoes and was about to pare them, I just thought how nice it would be if I was just a doing that for your dinner and mine only, in our own snug little home. When are you going to get the license? I think you are so long about it. I ain't in a hurry, but then I would like to get married, if we are going to do it at all, and not be fooling away all these long Winter evenings. I send you, inclosed, a piece of the dress I got yesterday. I would like to have a silk one, of course, to get married in, but as I can't, why, I can't, so I think this one will do very well. Any way, I would be willing to marry you if I had to do without a dress at all. Don't forget to bring the side combs when you come, I want to puff out my hair; I always look better with my hair puffed out, and last week I saw Miss Grace a going to a party with her hair all powdered and she looked so good that I am agoing to do it, too, for I want to look good when we get married, if I never look good again in all my life. I've got to close now as the paper ain't going to hold out much more, but I wish I had taken a much larger sheet, so that I could tell all of how much I think about you, and of the happiness that will be ours when we are married—but I don't know about going to the country to live; I like the country well enough, but country women have to milk the cows, and I never milked a cow, and I don't want to learn, still we'll be happy. Ever Your Loving Mary till Death.

P. S.—I have so much to do that I can't hardly think of anything to say, but when I was in bed last night, a thinking of you, these poetic thoughts came to me and I could hardly content myself till Mrs. Page went out of the kitchen over to Mrs. Kerns', so that I could get a chance to write them. When she did go I took a lead pencil and wrote them on the paper that came around the rice, which when Jimmy was taking the rice out he tore a piece off, and as I have forgot what I wrote on that piece I can't fill out all the lines, so that is the reason it don't rime right:

Oh, give me a wet sea and a flowing sail
When I am on the ocean bound—
The ocean of love which fills my heart,
And makes me start at every sound.

For my love he is a sweet sailor boy,
And he plows with his plow on the hill,
And he's coming to town to marry me
As soon as his new pantaloons are finished.

MR. BROWN'S WILL.—The will of the late John Carter Brown makes the following named public bequests: To the corporation of Brown University, for the erection of a fire proof library building, fifty thousand dollars; to the Rhode Island Hospital, twenty five thousand dollars; to the Butler Hospital for the Insane, five thousand dollars; to the Redwood Library, Newport, fund for books, $5,000 dollars. Besides the above bequest towards the erection of a library building for Brown University, Mr. Brown, a few years ago, gave the University a sum of money for the same object, which was placed on deposit by the treasurer, and now amounts to full twenty thousand dollars, in addition to the value of the lot of land given to the college and referred to in his will, worth probably thirty five thousand dollars. We understand that Mrs. Brown, Mr. Robert H. Ives, Mr. Thomas P. I. Goddard and Mr. George W. R. Matteson are named as trustees in the will.—[Providence Bulletin.

A COOL REQUEST.—Among curious wills that of an officer in the East India Company's service certainly deserves mention for its originality. Being very poor the testator bequeathed "to the governor of Bengal the office of paying any sum or sums which may be found at my death that I owe to any person in needy circumstances the whole cannot amount to more than 300 rupees." The legatee generously accepted this equivocal legacy. The testator also wished it to be understood that he won the amount of his burial expenses from a certain undertaker at a game of billiards.

Saturate a Piece of Bread or Meat with gastric juice, and it will dissolve. This is digestion. Add to such a mixture a little alcohol, and it will not dissolve. This is indigestion. Beware, then, of tinctures, or toules, or decoctions containing spirituous liquors. Shun all rum "tonics," and rely solely on DR. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS, the finest digestive invigorant known, and free from the fiery curse of Alcohol. je1-4w

Don't be Discouraged. Suppose you have "tried fifty remedies" and received no benefit, is there therefore "no balm in Gilead?" Verily there is. Your liver may be congested, your stomach half paralyzed, your nerves quivering, your muscles knotted with torture, your bowels constricted, your lungs diseased, your blood full of impurities—yet in one week after commencing a course of DR. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS you will feel like a new creature. my18-4w

Corns—Relief in five minutes. DR. CRISPIN, 179 Broad street, Providence, R. I.

Be on the Alert! Danger is at Hand!

This has been a sickly season. The medical faculty prophesy evil in the future. They think pestilence is on the wing for America. Suppose this to be true, what is the best defense against it? Redoubled nervous vigor. This is the only protection against panic as well as against the principal of infection. Why do not those who predict the epidemic propose an adequate preventive? There is one—a tonic, nervine and alterative, competent to shield the system against the subtle elements of disease, whether they float hither on the winds from distant lands, or rise like vapor from our own soil, or are incorporated with the universal fluid. This one preventive, of which there is no duplicate among the compounds either of the Old World or the New, is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Remember that it is a specific for all the complaints which lay the system open to visitations of deadly epidemics. If you are dyspeptic it renews the vigor of your digestive powers, gives you appetite, and restores your cheerfulness. If you are nervous, it invigorates every fibre of your nervous system, from the base of the brain, where it begins, to the extremities, where it terminates. If you are bilious, it disciplines your unruly liver and brings the action of that organ into harmony with the laws of health. It is, in short an invigorant so powerful that nature, with Hostetter's Bitters for her ally, may hid defiance alike to native malaria and foreign infection. It not only awakens the physical powers from a state of collapse and inanition, but it imparts permanent vigor to the muscular and nervous systems. Debilitation, as it were, both the stronghold and the outworks of vitality. The aged, the decrepid, the nervous, the broken down of both sexes, are recommended to try it. They will assuredly find it a present help in time of trouble.

PIMPLES AND BLOTCHES ON THE FACE.—In this condition of the skin, the VEGETINE is the great remedy as it acts directly upon the cause. It cleanses and purifies the blood, thereby causing humors of all kinds to disappear.

Astral Oil.

PRATT'S ASTRAL OIL.

WHAT IS IT? Astral Oil is a derivative of petroleum, produced by a new and improved process of manufacture, which gives it all the good, without any of the objectionable qualities of ordinary refined kerosene. Explosion is guarded against, and families can burn ASTRAL OIL WITH THE SAME ASSURANCE OF SAFETY AS THEY CAN GAS.

ITS QUALITIES.—It is perfectly pure, containing no unpleasant chemicals. It gives a clear, uniform and beautiful light, unequalled even by gas. It is free from objectionable odors. It burns in the ordinary kerosene lamps. It is always uniform in quality.

ITS SAFETY.—The Astral Oil may be relied upon as non-explosive and in every way perfectly safe to use. If, while burning, a lamp be upset and broken, the contents will not explode or take fire. It is the safest oil that can be made. Persons once using it will have no other. For sale by Grocers generally. d29

GENERAL NEWS.

FROM WASHINGTON.

Provisions of the New Currency Bill.

WASHINGTON, June 18.

Senator Wright of the conference committee on the banking and currency bill made a report to the Senate today. The first five sections of the bill reported are nearly identical with the bill of the previous conference committee. The provision in section seven of that bill, limiting the amount of legal tender notes to $382,000,000, is retained. The other three sections are almost identical with the bill transmitted to the committee on banking and currency by Mr. Knox, the comptroller of the currency on the 3d of February last, except that the present bill provides for the redistribution of $35,000,000 instead of $25,000,000.

The bill also differs from the previous conference bill is striking out all that portion referring to the retirement of legal tender notes as national bank notes are issued, and the redemption of the national bank notes in coin or in United States bonds at any future period. The bill continues to provide for redemption of national bank notes at the Treasury in amounts of $1000, and at the counters of the banks; upon presentation, but abolishes the present system of redemption agencies in the redemption cities.

The present bill releases the reserve required to be held on account of circulation. The average amount of cash reserve required to be held for circulation by national banks is estimated to be about $30,000,000, but national banks on the first of May last held an excess of cash reserve on circulation and deposits of about $48,000,000 over the present requirements of the law, and it is estimated that even with the repeal of this provision banks in the aggregate will continue to hold an excess beyond its requirement, so that the total amount of reserve released by the operation of the bill will not possibly exceed $15,000,000.

The Moiety Bill Ready for the Executive Approval.

The moiety bill is passed as it came from the hands of the conference committee. Senator Scott brought the matter up and, after some fruitless opposition from Messrs. Howe, Stewart, Sargent and Carpenter, the Senate passed it without a division. It went over to the House within an hour, and within ten minutes that body concurred in the action of the Senate without any audible dissent.

Passage of the District Bill.

The district ring in full force, spent the day about the Senate, attempting to secure various modifications of the bill abolishing the district government. An hour before a vote was taken in the Senate a member of the board of public works offered a large bet in the lobby of the Senate that certain modifications which they desired would be made. The bill, however passed without the least amendment in a little more than half an hour from the time it was taken up.

The New Assistant Secretary of State.

John L. Cadwallader, the new assistant Secretary of State, is a son of General Thomas Cadwallader of Philadelphia and a grandson of General Cadwallader, who served with General Washington during the war of the revolution. He graduated at Princeton College, studied law at Harvard College Law School and afterwards with Daniel Lord. He represented the attorney-general in the proceedings against Winchester Britten, recently removed from the position of district attorney of Kings county, New York. He is a personal friend of Secretary Fish, to whom he owes his nomination. His law practice has been lucrative for several years, and he is reputed wealthy.

FROM NEW YORK.

Fisk and Hatch.

NEW YORK, June 18.

The Times says: "We have much pleasure in recording the fact that the firm of Fisk and Hatch has issued a circular announcing that it is prepared to pay its creditors in full, with interest. This highly respectable firm suffered in the panic of last year, through no fault of its own, and it is a most satisfactory sign of the improved state of business that it is now able to meet all its obligations. The enterprise and honor of the house will commend it favorably to all its old patrons, and we hope to many new ones."

Nitro Glycerine Explosion.

Tuesday afternoon a terrible explosion of nitro glycerine took place at Richmond Valley, Staten Island. An old man named Walter Hicks, who had some blasting to do, placed the glycerine near the stove to dry, when it suddenly exploded. Mrs. Hicks sustained a compound fracture of the leg. It is thought she cannot recover. Mr. Hicks was seriously injured. The house was considerably damaged.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Barns Burned in Jaffray, N. H.

KEENE, N. H., June 18.

Two barns in Jaffray, upon the estate of the late George T. Richardson, were struck by lightning and burned during a thunder shower yesterday. They contained fifty or sixty tons of hay and farming tools which were advertised to be sold at auction today. Loss $2000. Insured for $1,700 in the New Hampshire Mutual.

The Bible in Public Schools.

TOLEDO, June 18.

The indications are that the question of reading the Bible in public schools is to be agitated here. In the board of education, last night, the following resolution was offered: "That the reading from any version of the book commonly known as the Bible, the singing of hymns, commonly known as religious hymns, and the religious action commonly known as prayer, shall not hereafter be any part of the exercises in any of the schools under the control of this board, and the same is hereby prohibited.

House Burned in Hanover, Mass.

BOSTON, June 18.

The dwelling house owned and occupied by the widow of the late Capt. John Cushing at Hanover, Four Corners, was burned today. Loss, $8,000; partially insured.

The Rye Beach Cable

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., June 18.

Steamer Ambassador has just arrived with thirty miles of the shore end of the new cable. The Faraday is expected this morning. The work of laying the cable will take place at once.

Boiler Explosion.

TOLEDO, O., June 18.

The boiler of Stevens & Co's wheel-barrow factory at Caldwell, Michigan, exploded today, killing Isaac Stevens, father of the proprietor and John Hudson, a boy of 16 years, and injuring William Voohees internally, V. Voohees in the chest, Samuel M. Williams in the head and shoulders, William Marble in the head and back, and badly bruising Wallack Culver. All but William Voohees will probably recover. The cause of the explosion was a defective boiler.

The German Saloon Keepers of this city have raised a fund of $5000 to oppose the excise law in the courts.

The Methodist Conference

here last evening discussed the temperance question, and after considerable debate, in which one pastor said that he saw no moral wrong in a glass of wine, contending that it was the abuse and not the use that made it wrong, the report of the temperance committee, recommending members of the conference to pledge themselves not to vote for any antiprohibition men for office, was adopted.

Murder in Cranston.

PROVIDENCE, June 18.

Matthew J. Donohue, who last Sunday made an attack with a knife upon his divorced wife, was last evening found dead in a field near the city, in Cranston, his face and head indicating that he had received a horrible beating. The post mortem examination showed injuries not necessarily fatal, but it is believed the man died in consequence. The coroner's jury are investigating. Donohue was lately discharged from a Boston hospital and was under bail to answer to a charge of horse stealing here.

AN UNLOOKED FOR CONTINGENCY.—A Chicago paper relates the following thrilling incident in the life of George Francis Train. He had some way got the impression that a child of American parents must be born in this country if it would not be debarred by the Constitution from holding the office of President. Having no doubt that any son of his would aspire to that lofty eminence and having reason for believing that he was soon to be gladdened by the face of a new-comer, Mr. Train hurriedly arranged his business in London and sailed with his family for New York. He was very anxious on the voyage, and joy unspeakable shone upon his classical countenance when he once more caught sight of his native land. All was well, and George Francis lifted his voice in thanksgiving and was satisfied. Not long afterward the child for which he had sacrificed so much was born. But it was a girl! Mr. Train was astounded. The possibility of such a mischance had never for one moment entered his mind. He vowed then and there never so take another trip of three thousand miles on such an uncertainty, and shortly after left for London to prosecute his tramway claims against an unappreciative British public.

REPUBLICAN AND MONARCHICAL MANNERS.—How much better it is to live in a free and easy republic than to chafe and groan under the artificial distinctions of a bloated aristocracy. In the beautiful capital of the United States the meanest citizen can get a paving contract and become a leader of fashion. It is true that attempts are made from time to time to establish certain rules of precedence among the ladies of the court; but such definitions have no official recognition, and are never observed at the inauguration ball. No factitious importance is bestowed upon good manners or a good name. No unfair preference is shown to education. Any gentleman who has made a million by selling shoddy caps to the soldiers, or dispensing blankets, whisky, and brass buttons to the Indian wards of the nation, may hope to be mentioned in the newspapers as "one of our most eminent citizens" (which is equivalent in the American peerage to a duke, or at least a marquis); and when we read in history of the street fights which have sometimes attended the struggles of rival embassadors for prior presentation at court, we can point with pride to the recent reception of the blue blood Boston merchants at the White House, where Gen. Butler elbowed the embassadors and buttonholed the President, and Senator Logan cocked his cigar in the face of Mr. John M. Forbes.—[N. Y. Tribune.

FRIDAY, JUNE 19, 1874

PUBLIC LAWS OF RHODE ISLAND.

PASSED AT THE MAY SESSION, A. D. 1874.

AN ACT in amendment of Chapters 73, 79 and 119 of the General statutes.

It is enacted by the General Assembly as follows:

SECTION 1. Every person convicted of keeping or maintaining a Common Nusiance in violation of the provisions of Chapter 73, of the General Statutes, shall be fined not less than one hundred dollars, nor more than one thousand dollars, and be imprisoned not less than thirty days nor more than one year, and all fines so recovered shall enure, twenty dollars thereof to the use of the complainant, and the remainder to the use of the state.

SEC. 2. No person shall, at any time, manufacture or sell, or suffer to be manufactured or sold, by any person, except for the purpose of exportation; or keep or suffer to be kept on his premises or possessions, or under his charge, for the purpose of sale, within this state, any ale, wine, rum or other strong or malt liquors or any mixed liquors, a part of which is ale, wine, rum, or other strong or malt liquors, unless as is hereinafter provided.

SEC. 3. So much of section 12, of Chapter 79, of the General Statutes, as is included in the following clause of said section, is hereby repealed, viz: "and be thereafter for the term of two years, made incapable of holding any license under this Chapter."

SEC. 4. So much of section 13, of said Chapter 79, as is included in the following clause of said section, is hereby repealed, viz: "And shall thereafter for the space of one year be disqualified from holding any license under this Chapter."

SEC. 5. The penalties prescribed by section 14, of said Chapter 79, shall be imposed in case of any subsequent conviction or convictions of any person once convicted of any violation of the provisions of Chapters 73, 78 and 79, of the General Statutes, or of either of them.

SEC. 6. The penalties prescribed by section 25, of said Chapter 79, shall be imposed upon any person convicted of the offence set forth in section 26, of said Chapter, in case of first, second, third or subsequent convictions thereof, which penalties shall be in lieu of those prescribed by said section 26.

SEC. 7. If any person not authorized by this act shall sell any ale, wine, rum or other strong or malt liquors, or mixed liquors, as aforesaid, to any person, the seller thereof shall be liable for all injuries which such purchaser may commit while in a state of intoxication arising in whole or in part from drinking the liquors sold as aforesaid, in an action of the case in favor of the person injured.

SEC. 8. Authority to sell the liquors enumerated in section 2 of this act for medicinal, artistic and mechanical purposes only, and not to be drunk on the premises of the seller, is granted to the persons authorized by Chapter 119, of the General Statutes, to sell medicines and poisons. And this or any other statute now in force shall not be construed to authorize the sale of any such liquors to a minor without a written request from his or her parent or guardian, or a physician's perscription; or to a person of known intemperate habits.

SEC. 9. No prescription of any article enumerated in Schedule A. of said Chapter 119, as amended by this act, or of which any such article is an ingredient, prepared according to the written directions of a Medical Practitioner, as provided in section 7, of said Chapter 119, shall be refilled without new directions therefor in writing from such medical practitioner, which shall be kept on file or in a book as prescribed in said section 7.

SEC. 10. Every person who shall violate any of the provisions of said Chapter 119, or of this act, which relate to poisons, shall be fined not less than one hundred dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, and shall be deprived of the right of practicing as a pharmacist in this state thereafter.

SEC. 11. Schedule A. of said Chapter 119, is hereby amended by inserting therein, "Alcohol and its preparations," and by adding thereto "Or such as being intended for internal administration, contain opium or more than two per centum of alcohol."

SEC. 12. All acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed.

SEC. 13. This act shall take effect from and after its passage.

A true copy—witness,

JOSHUA M. ADDEMAN,
Secretary of State.

AN ACT in amendment of Chapter 245, Title XXXIII, of the General Statutes, "Of Salaries."

[Passed May 28, 1874.]

It is enacted by the General Assembly as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 245 of the General Statutes is hereby so amended that the salary of "the Clerk of the Justice Court of the city of Newport" shall read and be seven hundred dollars, instead of "six" hundred dollars as at present enacted.

SEC. 2. This act shall take effect immediately from and after its passage.

AN ACT in amendment of Chapter 48, Section 5, of the General Statutes, "Of the Powers of School Districts."

[Passed May 28, 1874.]

It is enacted by the General Assembly as follows.

SECTION 1. The fifth section of chapter 48 of the General Statutes is hereby amended so as to read as follows: "Every such district shall annually elect a moderator, a clerk, a treasurer, a collector, and either one or three trustees, as the district may decide, and may fill vacancies in either of said offices at any legal meeting. The moderator may administer the oath to all the other officers of the school district."

I certify the foregoing to be true copies.

Witness,

JOSHUA M. ADDEMAN,
Secretary of State.

Passed at the Adjournment of the May Session, 1874.

AN ACT in amendment of Chapter 79 of the General Statutes, "Of the Suppression of Intemperance."

[Passed June 9th, 1874.]

It is enacted by the General Assembly as follows:

SECTION 1. All licenses granted by any Town Council or Board of Aldermen, under the provisions of Chapter 79 of the General Statutes, which have been permitted to be transferred to any other person, or permitted to be used at any other place within the limits of the town or city where the same was granted, than that named in such license, by any such Town Council or Board of Aldermen without giving seven days public notice of the application for such permit or assent to transfer, are hereby declared to be as valid in all respects as if such public notice had been given for seven days, and shall be considered as valid from the date of such permit or transfer.

SEC. 2. This act shall take effect from and after its passage.

my2 Op. Taylor's Drug Store.

Figures Will Not Lie.

WE FIND, BY ACTUAL MEASUREMENT, that the different shuttle sewing machines make the following number of stitches to each revolution of the drive wheel:

ÆTNA,	5 ½ stitches.
SINGER,	5 "
DAVIS,	4 ½ "
WEED,	4 ½ "
AMERICAN,	4 "
DOMESTIC,	3½ "
ELIAS HOWE,	3½ "

As Shown above the Ætna Machine does more work in less time than any other shuttle machine. It runs the easiest, with the least noise, and is the simplest, most durable and best. Every one likes it.

A few SECOND-HAND MACHINES, for sale at a BARGAIN!

C. Banning, Agent.

AMERICAN AND FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

For Inventions, Trade Marks or Designs,

No. 76 State St., opp. Kilby St., Boston.

AFTER AN EXTENSIVE PRACTICE of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms, with despatch. Researches made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of Inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."

CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

"Mr. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part, leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."

AGENTS WANTED for "TELL IT ALL"

By Mrs. T. B. H. Stenhouse, for 25 years wife of a Mormon High Priest. With an introduction by HARRIET BEECHER STOWE. Two years ago the author wrote a pamphlet on Polygamy which excited the Mormon newspapers to sneeringly invite her to write a book and "Tell it All." Eminent men and women urged her to accept the challenge, and "Tell it All" is the result. It is the only book on this subject ever written by a real Mormon woman. 625 pp. superbly illustrated and bound. It outsells all other books three to one. It takes like wildfire. 100,000 will be sold. Agents, now is your opportunity. Our descriptive pamphlet, terms, &c., sent free to all. Address je4-4w
